

Conditions to Become Mevlana Exchange programme student

Minimum required conditions to become Mevlana Exchange Programme student are as follows:

a) The student shall be a student of associate degree, undergraduate, postgraduate or doctoral student registered at formal higher education programmes,

The general academic grade point average of associate degree or undergraduate students shall be at least two and a half over four,

The general academic grade point average of postgraduate and doctoral students shall be at least three over four.

Students registered at open, outside, informal or distance education can not benefit from the Mevlana Exchange Programme.

Students studying at preparatory or first year of associate or bachelor's degree and postgraduate and doctoral students studying at preparatory or scientific preparatory terms can not benefit from this programme for the first term that they have started their primary study.

In matters of equivalencies of the grades in which the grade system is calculated over a hundred in the quadrat system, related CHE decisions are admitted.

CHE Executive Board holds the power to take necessary actions in order to carry out student Exchange in an active and efficient way and to designate additional conditions except the conditions set forth in the first paragraph.

Evaluation of the applications and student admission

Higher education institution determines the student number and distribution who will go abroad or come from abroad within the concluded bilateral protocols by considering the funding amount allocated by CHE Executive Board. Before signing the Mevlana Exchange Programme Protocol, higher education institutions can not select students to participate in the Mevlana Exchange Programme.

During the evaluation, 50% of grade point average and 50% of language scores are taken into account and students are ranked using cumulative value of these two factors.

A language exam result determined jointly which forms a basis in student selection is requested from the students applying to the Mevlana Exchange Programme by the higher education institutions that have signed the Exchange protocol.

Evaluation of the results is announced through our web site.

Conditions to become Mevlana Exchange programme Academic Staff

All academic staff employed in national and foreign higher education institutions that have signed Mevlana Exchange Programme Protocol can join academic staff mobility. This mobility includes education-training activities which an academic staff authorized in one higher education institution will perform in another higher education institution.

Academic staff mobility periods can be minimum one week and at maximum three months for once only in the same education-training year.

In the scope of mobility, academic activities of academic staff can not be less than total six hours weekly. In hourly calculation of the activities performed by academic staff, courses are considered. If course hours do not complete six hours, academic activities like seminars, panels or conferences are evaluated in this context. Academic staff mobility plans which do not contain lectures shall not be considered within Mevlana Exchange Programme and accepted for the Exchange.

To execute academic staff mobility in an active and efficient way, scope, period and conditions of the mobility can be rearranged by CHE Executive Board if necessary.

In the Exchange, priority is given to applications from academic staffs who have not earlier participated in academic staff Exchange activities.

As a result of the evaluation, Our University announce the academic staff entitled to participate in Exchange in the institution web site.

Academic staff entitled to participate in the Mevlana Exchange Programme and do not participate without an excuse, can not apply to this programme for a period of three years.
